TeX punctuation

"Double quotes" and 'single quotes' turn curly; it's an apostrophe. Pages 10–20, the years 1990–1999 and a pause—like this—take their dashes, and a sentence can trail off...

Ligatures join the letters in office, efficient, affluent, shuffle and fjord. After a sentence the space is wider. After an abbreviation such as Mr. Smith or Prof. Jones it stays normal, as it does after the initials in D. E. Knuth.
